

Unlicensed Health Care Client “Bill of Rights”

“The state of Rhode Island has not adopted any educational and training standards for unlicensed health care practitioners.

This statement of credentials is for information purposes only.

Under Rhode Island law, an unlicensed health care practitioner may not provide a medical diagnosis. If you desire a diagnosis from a licensed physician, chiropractor, or acupuncture practitioner, or services from a physician, chiropractor, nurse, osteopath, physical therapist, dietician, nutritionist, acupuncture practitioner, athletic trainer, or any other type of health care provider, you may seek such services at any time”;

- 1) You have the right to file a complaint with the RI Dept. of Health, Health Dept., Cannon Bldg., Capitol Hill, Providence, RI 02908-5097, 401-222-2231
- 2) The practitioner's fees per unit of service, the practitioner's method of billing for such fees, the names of any Insurance companies that agreed to reimburse the practitioner, or health maintenance organizations with whom the practitioner contracts to provide service, whether the practitioner accepts Medicare, medical assistance, or general assistance medical care, and whether the practitioner is willing to accept partial payment, or to waive payment, and in what circumstances;
- 3) You have the right to reasonable notice of changes in services or charges;
- 4) You have the right to a brief summary, in plain language, of the theoretical approach used by the practitioner in providing services to clients;
- 5) You have the right to complete and current information concerning the practitioner's assessment and recommended service that is to be provided, including the expected duration of the service to be provided;
- 6) You can expect to be free from verbal, physical, or sexual abuse by the practitioner;
- 7) All of your records and transactions with the practitioner are confidential, unless release of these records is authorized in writing by the client, or otherwise provided by law;
- 8) You have the right to access to records and written information from records in accordance with the provisions of this chapter;
- 9) You have the right to choose freely among available practitioners and to change practitioners after services have begun, within the limits of health insurance, medical assistance, or other health programs;
- 10) You have the right to a coordinated transfer when there will be a change in the provider of services;
- 11) You may refuse services or treatment, unless otherwise provided by law;
- 12) You may assert the client's rights without retaliation.

I, _____ have read the Health Care Client Bill of Rights.

Print name

Signature: _____

Date: _____

Provided and Reviewed by: Keri Layton, N.D., All That Matters, 315 Main Street, Wakefield, RI 02879
And 111 Chestnut St. Providence, RI 02903